

Jan Burke is the New York Times and USA Today bestselling author of fourteen books and numerous short stories. Her work has been published internationally, optioned for film, and won major awards — including the Edgar for Best Novel. She is a nationally recognized advocate for the improvement of forensic science.

[updated 03/05/18]